

Ranger Cannen Hill, 15, is a sophomore at Raytown South High School. He plays for the school's basketball team and is a member on the debate team. His interests are in the areas of writing, graphic design, and pursuing his dream of becoming a professional basketball player.

Cannen has been involved in the Urban Ranger Corps Program for a period of four years. As an Urban Ranger, Cannen has served his community in various ways. He has volunteered his services in urban gardens, landscaping, and working with community neighborhood associations on various projects.

Cannen's years as an Urban Ranger have helped him understand the importance of respect while giving him tools to grow and mature in different environments.